To our friends and community,

In the name of the entire PiMOV community, it is an honour for me to write to you in this monthly newsletter.

At PiMOV, we are going through amazing transformations that are leading toward the socially-conscious society that we envision. This month of November is our birth month and we are excited for everything it will bring along!

PiMOV is like a kitchen in which its members cook their original and unique recipe by mixing up the ingredients they discover through inspiration, love and support.

Why am I telling you this?

Because I want you to know that PiMOV is here for you to find your ingredients with people like you, without putting your project aside. On the contrary, by reinforcing it through your being, the giving and receiving, and the connection and collaboration to together positively iMPACT through your uniqueness, love and creation.

PiMOV is about letting go of limiting patterns of being and doing. It is about giving and receiving, a continuous and limitless spiralling flow of abundance that is generated through the individuality and uniqueness of each member, and the collective potential of the movement.

Together we are limitless!

With lots of love and gratitude,

Jeannette & your PiMOV Family

Dare to be who you are and create what you love!

"Every story I create, creates me. I write to create myself." ~ Octavia E. Butler

PiMOV is about you and your creation. It is your responsibility and commitment in this life to continue showing up to grow yourself and your project.

To grow your experience, and commit to explore and practice every day, with continuous observation to integrate your lessons.

The "kitchen" is always available for you to cook and connect with like-minded others to get supported, inspired and empowered.

This is a short version (3:45') of a precious sharing between Patricia Jean Fleming and myself, a wholehearted connection that defies any limitation imposed by physicality.

There's so much to learn and to un-learn to be who you are! This does not mean that the process is harsh or difficult, on the contrary, exploration is hugely beautiful when you do it in togetherness, with people like you!

Society needs more people like you!

"The more you practice, the better you get, the more freedom you have to create." ~ Jocko Willink

Connect, collaborate and grow for a better future.

Competition doesn't exist any more, there's only collaboration.

We envision a world led by Socially-Conscious Leaders like you, who organise themselves to share their wisdom to the world through their projects, and for whom collaboration is the doorway to their highest potential and limitless abundance.

No judgment, no promotion, just connection, collaboration, and living from the inside-out!
