

In Love of Co-Creation →

Hello beautiful souls, welcome to the PIMOV Recap!

Another shift is happening in PIMOV. The walls are falling for it to expand in Love, Uniqueness, and in Co-Creation. The Movement is opening to you, and to everyone else willing to change the world from the inside-out.

Every day is an opportunity to change. Every day is an opportunity to adjust to growth. Every day is an opportunity to reset oneself to the purpose of life.

Today, the community is the Movement. It is you, and me, and us, and everyone. It expands and extends through your Power of Being - Freedom to be who you are and to create what you love.

Explore, expand, and practice being Love. What you are, and what you do, does matter. You are limitless potential shining through your Uniqueness.

You and me, and us, we are connected. What you do, affects me. What I do, affects you.

You and me, and everyone, are self-leaders being the example we want to see. We learn/un-learn to be in Freedom. We grow in Love, Uniqueness, and in Co-Creation.

Today, I have understood what it means for a community to be borderless. It is a Movement open to everything and everyone in this world. I have learned that whatever I have created, I always will carry in me through WHO I AM.

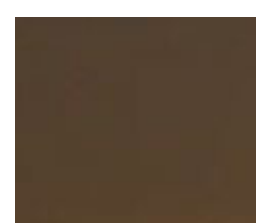

What I create does not have to have a name. It does not have to have an identity. Because what I AM, entails everything and everyone.

I am in service to my Self, and to you. I am here to co-create with you. This PIMOV Recap is for you to join me in co-creation.

Today, this Movement is called PIMOV. Tomorrow, I do not know what it will be. But I am Co-Creating this new earth in Love, and in Uniqueness, with You!

THANK YOU for being here.

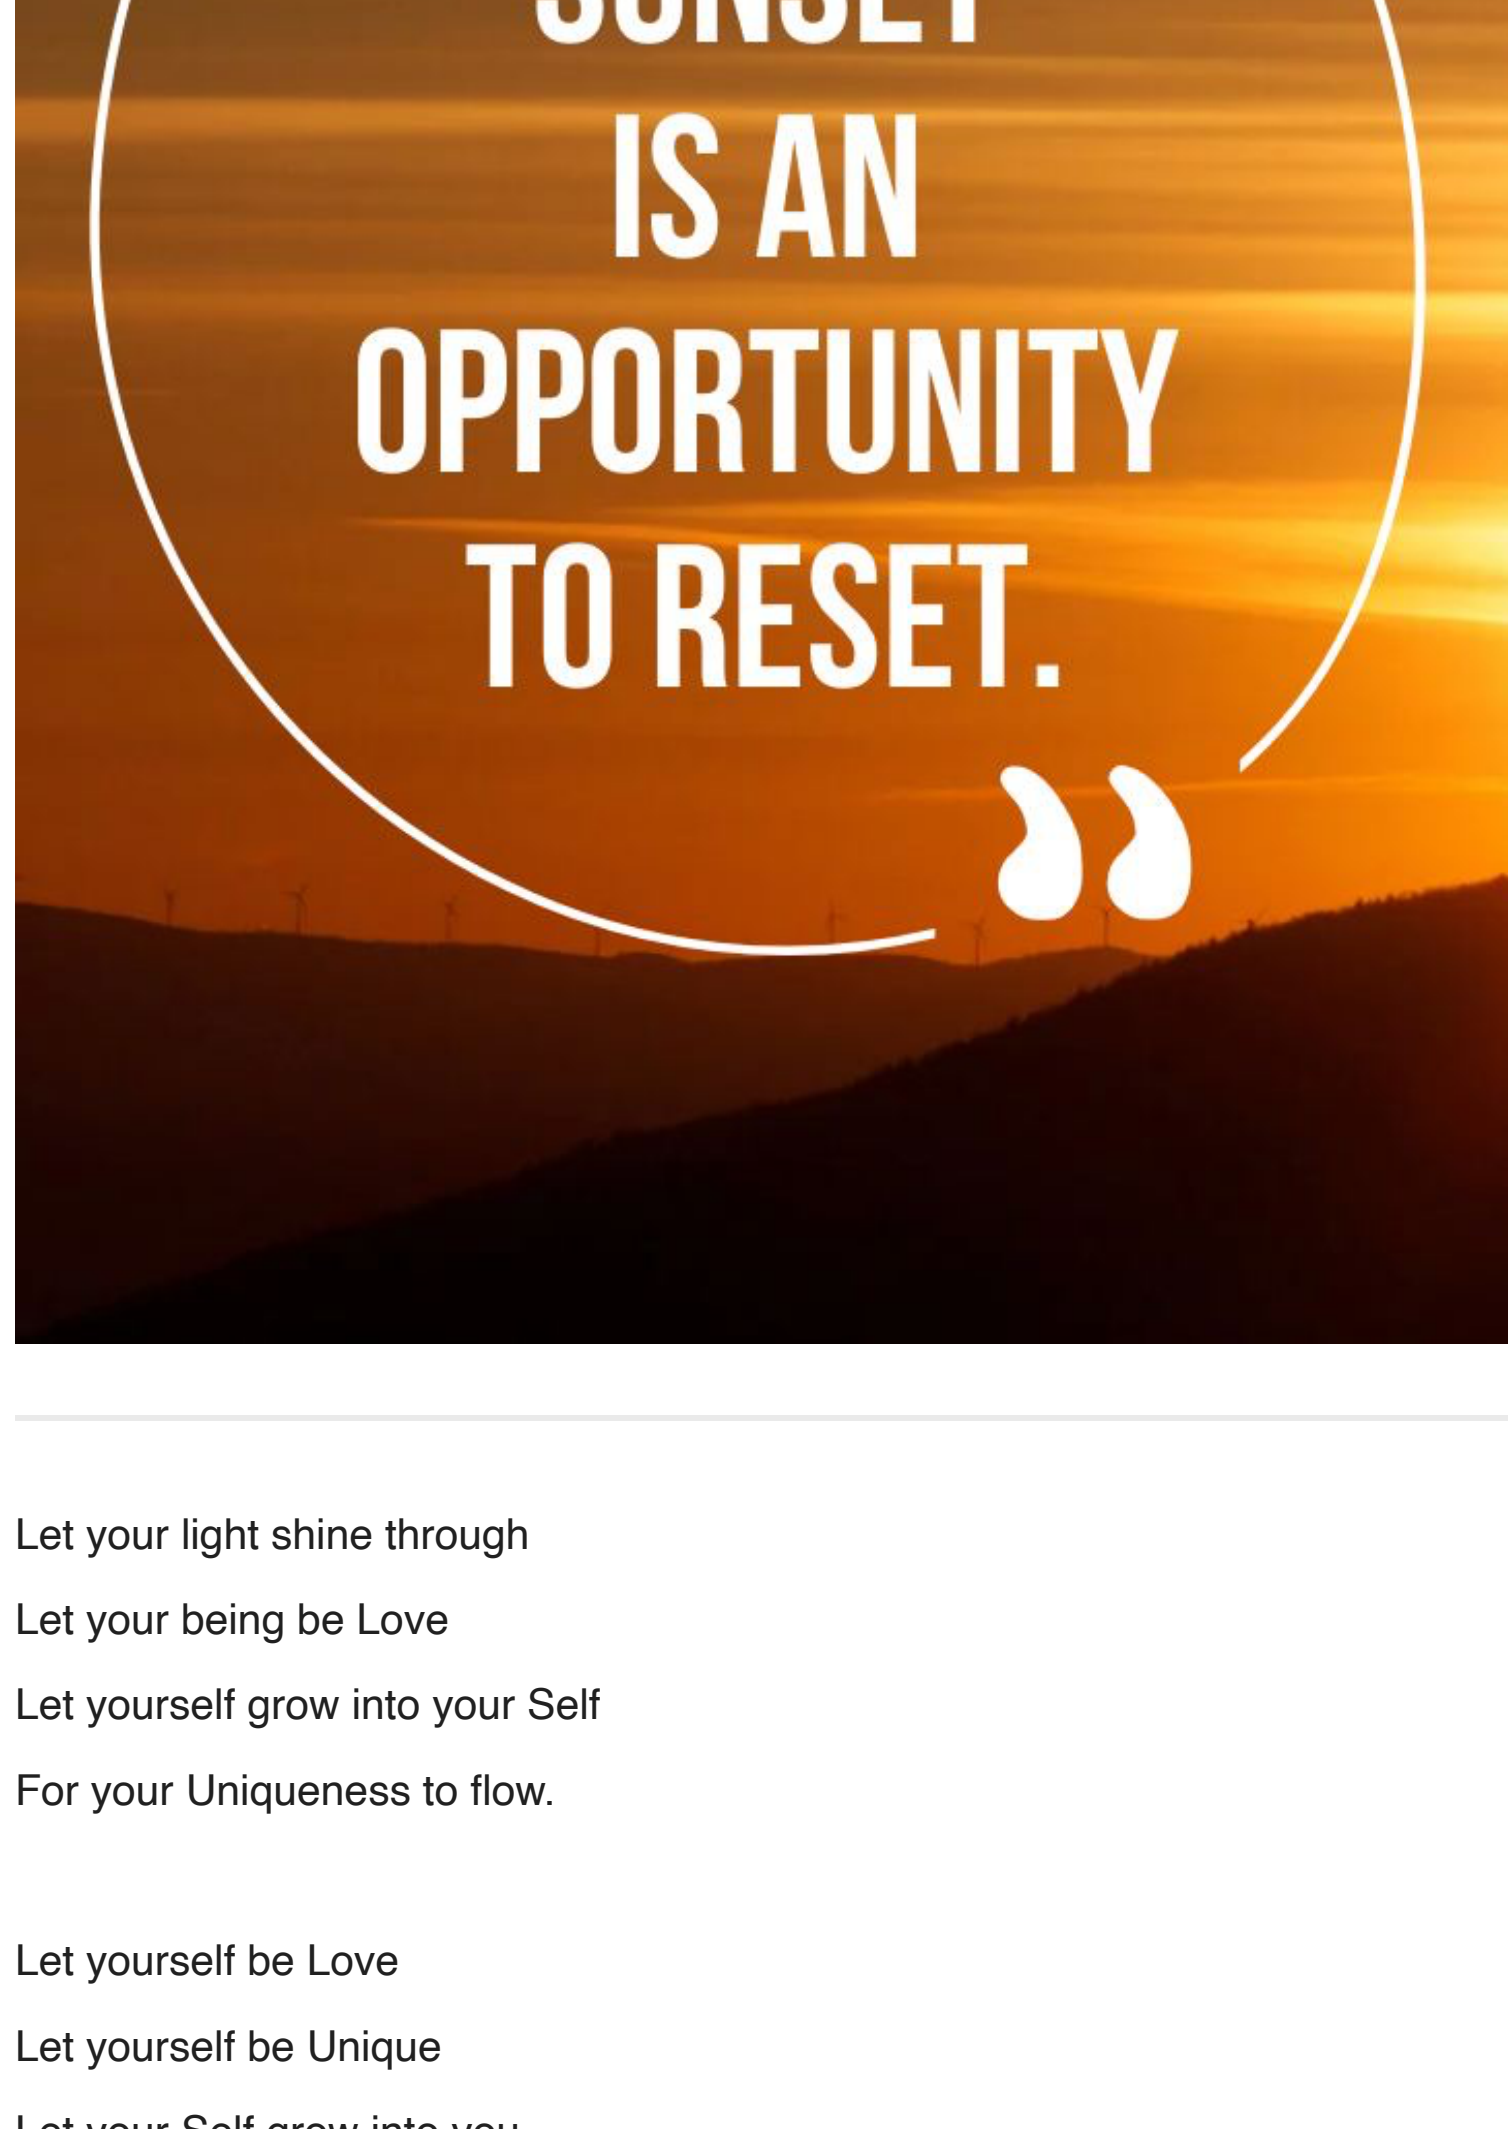

With lots of love and gratitude,

Jeannette & the Positive IMPACT Movement

Grow the Leader in you. The world needs you!

The past years have been about learning/un-learning to flow in the being. We met in PIMOV on a weekly basis to co-learn, co-evolve, and to uncover our Uniqueness.

Today, we dare to be perfectly imperfect. There is no need for walls to feel safe and free. Because Uniqueness brings along Love and Freedom.

Or is it vice-versa? There is still so much to co-learn, and to grow! I am not even in the beginning of what it is to be.

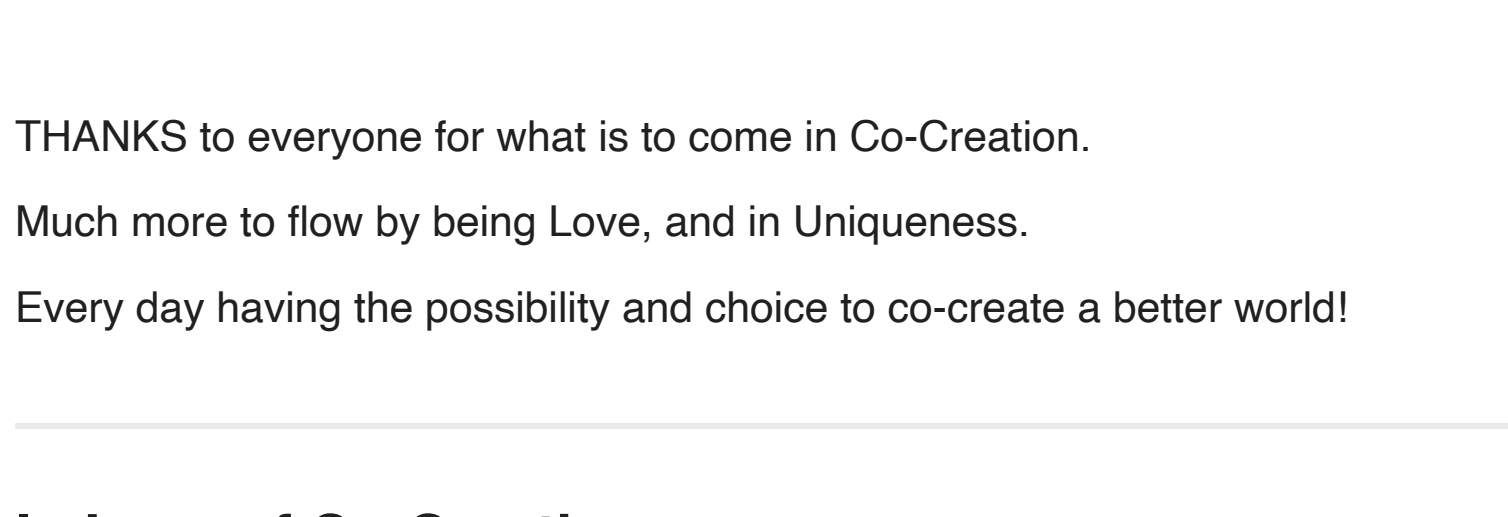

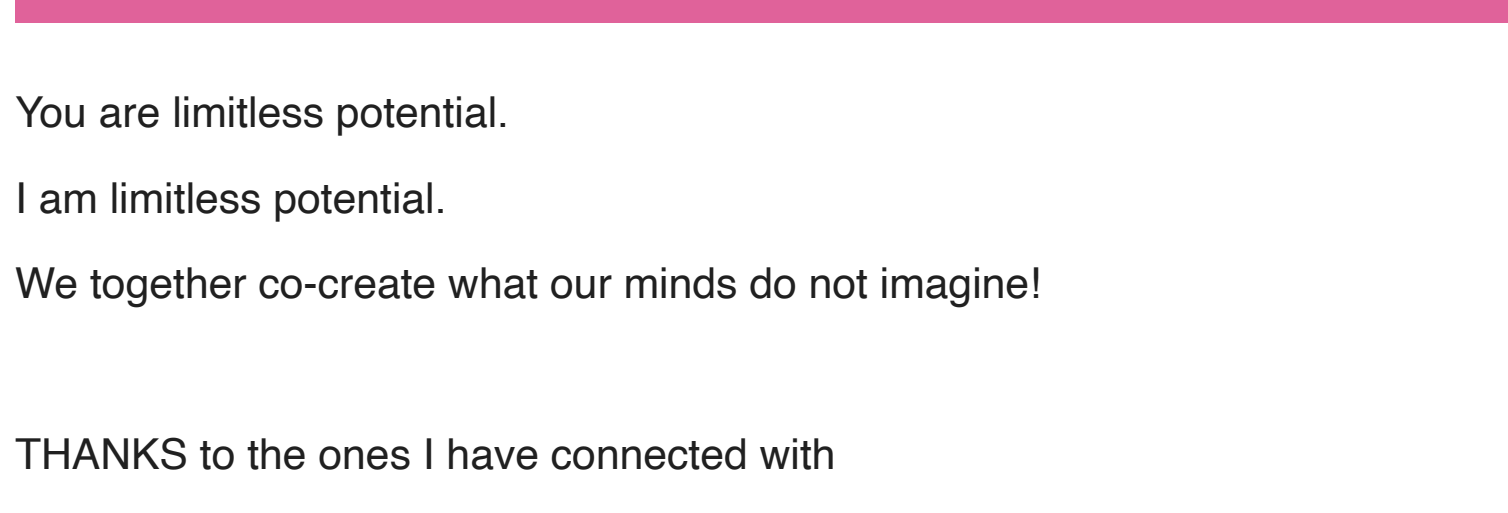

I show up as I am, and I invite you to do the same. Everything takes exploration, experience and practice. In observation of you being you. No matter what.

But as I can, so can you! I was terrified of doing wrong. Today, I love, value, and respect my perfectly imperfect being. And so can you! Because you are beautifully perfectly imperfect, too!

I love co-creating conversations with you. Conversations that are co-created by connecting to the heart. Through Love and Uniqueness.

Some of these have been recorded. Others have been for me to continue learning and growing into who I am. In service to you and this amazing new earth.

Conversations to awaken the Leader in You

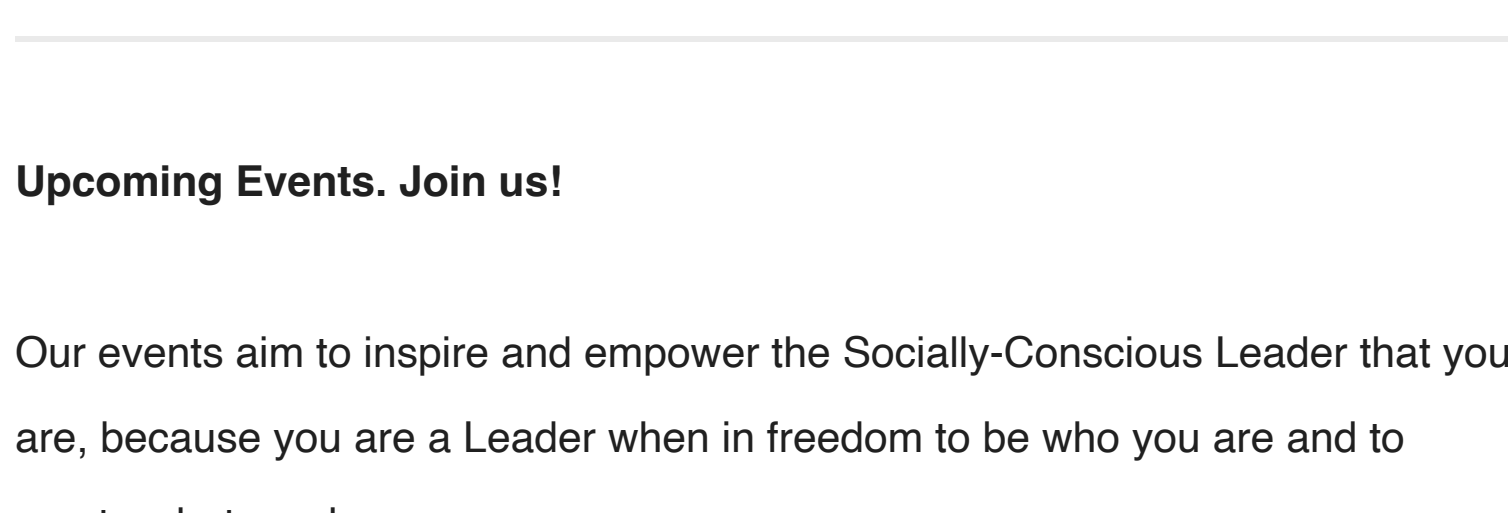

Co-Creation goes beyond Collaboration

You are limitless potential. I am limitless potential. We together co-create what our minds do not imagine!

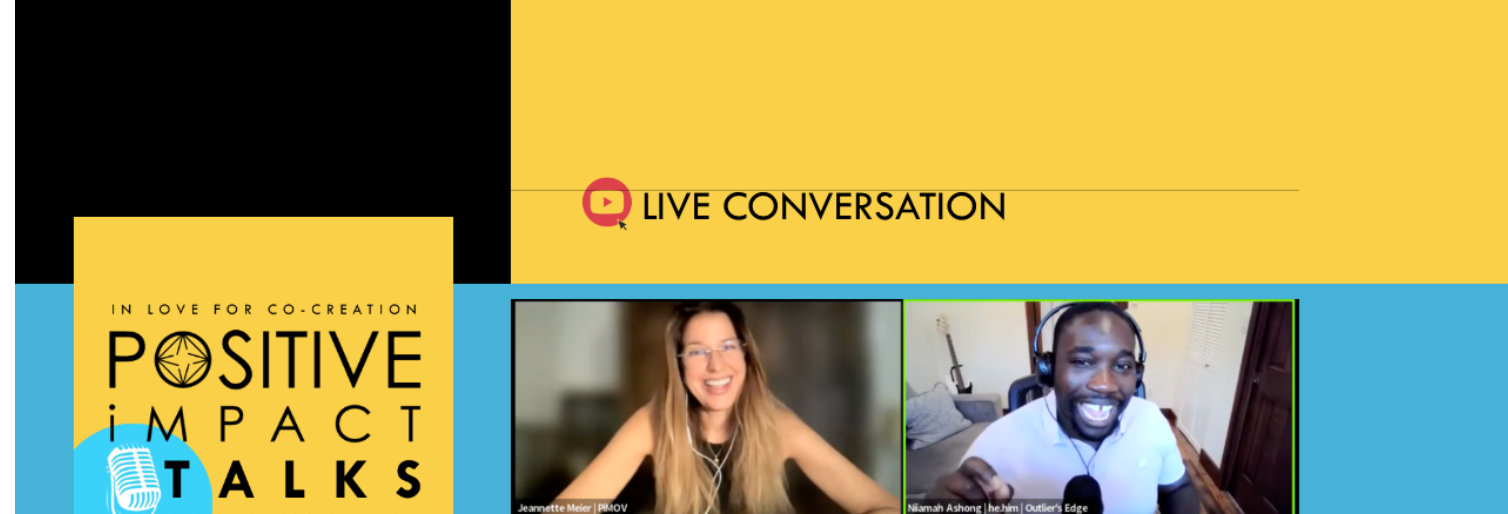

THANKS to the ones I have connected with For the invitations to continue growing and expanding And for the Love that you are when flowing with me.

THANKS to everyone for what is to come in Co-Creation. Much more to flow by being Love, and in Uniqueness. Every day having the possibility and choice to co-create a better world!

In Love of Co-Creation

Upcoming Events. Join us!

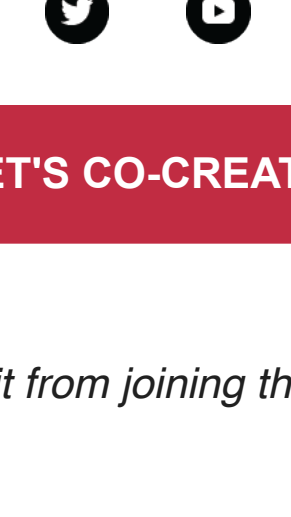

Our events aim to inspire and empower the Socially-Conscious Leader that you are, because you are a Leader when in freedom to be who you are and to create what you love.

Belief in yourself!

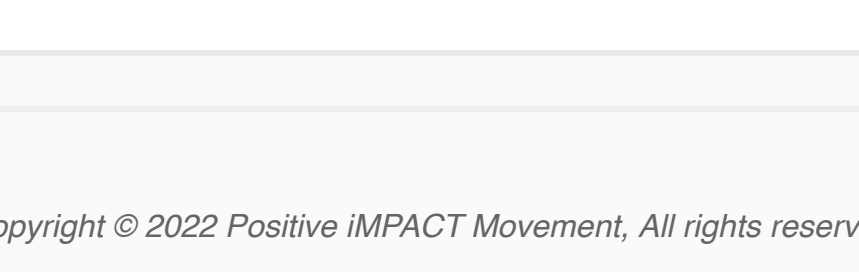

ABOUT: These conversations are not planned, we just flow in togetherness by daring to be who we are. We periodically co-create these conversations, sharing about who we are, what we create, whilst exploring, experiencing and practicing to be.
